During March 22-23, 2017, the 2nd Symposium on JASTIP Disaster Prevention International Cooperation Research (JASTIP-WP4 Symposium) was organized by the Disaster Prevention Research Institute (DPRI) of Kyoto University and the Japan-ASEAN Science, Technology and Innovation Platform (JASTIP). Assoc. Prof. Anawat Suppasri and Asst. Prof. Natt Leelawat of International Research Institute of Disaster Science (IRIDeS), Tohoku University, participated in this symposium and gave research presentations.

Collaborative Researches and Activities on Water-related Disasters in ASEAN Countries Anawat Suppasri (presenter), Fumihiko Imamura, Natt Leelawat

ICT Use in Disaster Evacuation of ASEAN Citizens: Lessons Learned from the 2011 Great East Japan Earthquake and the 2016 Kumamoto Earthquakes

Natt Leelawat (presenter), Anawat Suppasri, Fumihiko Imamura, Abdul Muhari (Ministry of Marine Affairs and Fisheries, Indonesia), Monkonkorn Srivichai (Rajamangala University of Technology Lanna Chiang Rai Campus, Thailand), Elsie Benedict Jaimin (Malaysian Meteorological Department, Malaysia)

The symposium was the stage of researchers to present their Japan-ASEAN disaster prevention-related studies. The presentations covered all types of natural disasters. Questions and suggestions were raised, shared, and discussed along with the schedule. Many issues were interesting due to the possibility to apply the similar methodologies into different areas of other Southeast Asian countries. The possible future research was also discussed.
